

QSL Group was established in 2004 as Quantum Service and Logistics, based in Sydney, Australia. The Company has since experienced significant growth through expansion in service offerings, superior performances and establishment of a regional footprint within Asia Pacific countries.

Our range of pre-sales and reverse supply chain services are customized to suit the evolving business needs of our partners, adopting the specific requirements of the markets we support. We offer a single point of contact across the region.

Our operating model consists of fully owned subsidiaries, JV partnerships and strategic alliances with like minded companies to provide a unified and customer focused end to end solution.

We are flexible, approachable and work collaboratively with our partners to develop the right solution for their business needs.

Our head office & main operations are centrally located in Silverwater, NSW, close to major traffic routes and easy access to Sydney airport.
